FAIRMONT, W. VA., Dec. 7.—The belief expressed in the United Press dispatches yesterday that the mine explosion at Monongah would be the worst in the history of the country, has been practically verified by news from the scene this morning. While all the bodies have not been recovered, it is known now that all in the mines must be dead, and the death list will be 500, probably 50 more.

Yesterday the company endeavored to keep the number of men in the ill fated mine down as low as possible, but they have been compelled to admit that the first reports of the disaster were too low by many scores.

Mine officials this morning gave out the statement that checks to 453 miners were given out yesterday morning and to this number the miners add at least 100 for day laborers. This would make the total death list 553, for every man is dead. Officials declare, however, that the list will not exceed 500. Only sixteen dead bodies have been removed from the mine, but 100 others are located and are being kept in the mine until the authorities can get the excited friends away from the mine entrance.

Rescuers are 1700 feet through the main heading in No. 6, and expect to get to the extreme limit by night. After that is done, way headings leading to the rooms where the main body of miners were working, can be opened up. This will be done by night and then the bodies can be taken out rapidly. The headings are filled with poisonous gasses, and it is impossible to open them until the main entries are cleared.

The fire in No. 8 mine was practically under control at noon, and while there are still flames in some of the minor way headings, the rescuers expect to be able to make headway this afternoon. Foul gasses in the mine prevented any attempt at rescue until late this morning, and then it was impossible to make headway.

At this mine the force of the explosion was so great that holes were blown through the side of the hill in several places along the riverbank. Deadly gas rushed from these apertures in such quantities that it was impossible to attempt to break through to the main shaft till today.

Indications were this morning that it might be days before the relief work or recovery of bodies in No. 8 mine can be finished. With the entrance destroyed, the shaft under the river to No. 6 mine cut off, foul gas filling every foot of the interior and pumps ruined beyond repair, the situation is almost hopeless, even if it were possible any of the entombed men escaped the explosion.

State Mine Inspector Paul, and his deputies arrived this afternoon, and took charge. The Fairmont Coal Company declares it will need no financial assistance for relief.

FAIRMONT, W. VA., Dec. 7.—With the dawn of day the little mining village of Monongah, was found to be one of sorrow and despair. Throughout the night widows and orphans hovered close together at the mine entrance, despite the coldness of the night. They hoped against hope that their loved ones would still be found alive. There is every indication this morning that at least 400 men met death as the result of the explosion which wrecked mines Nos. 6 and 8 of the Fairmont Coal company yesterday.

It is an established fact that at least 425 men were in the mine when the explosion occurred, which is declared to have been caused by fire damp, and the openings of both Nos. 6 and 8 were completely wrecked. The concussion was felt all over the country, houses were wrecked, windows broken and many persons near the mine knocked down and injured.

Thousands of people have assembled at the mine entrances and 250 men comprise the rescue parties, 160 men working at No. 8 opening, while the other 150 are at No. 6.

The greatest damage was done at the mouth of No. 8 opening, where the fan house and other buildings were destroyed by the force of the explosion.

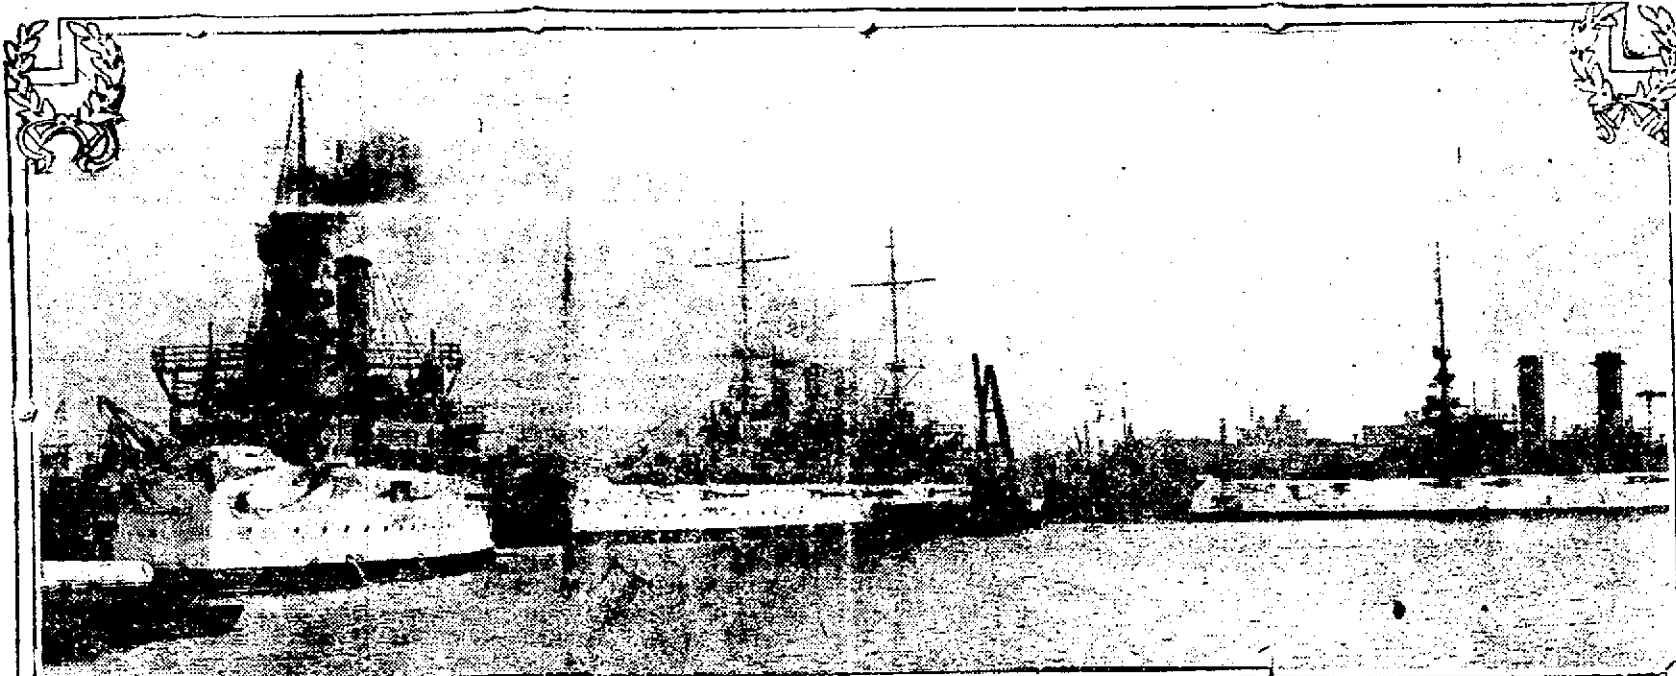

The scenes about the mine openings throughout the night were agonizing. The anguish of wives and mothers, who wrung their hands and cried hysterically out of their solicitude for bread winners who were locked up in their underground sepulchre, was pitiful. Women fainted, little children, only faintly realizing what had happened, cried pitifully, not for absent fathers and brothers, but because of the distress about them.

The Fairmont Coal company is one of the largest companies of the kind in the country, and is capitalized at about $20,000,000.

NEWARK MEN HAVE FRIENDS IN ACCIDENT.

The news of the distressing accident which occurred in the coal mines of the Fairmont Coal company at Monongah, near Fairmont, West Virginia, Friday morning, in which hundreds of lives are reported to have been lost was read in Newark with horror by hundreds of our citizens, quite a number of whom have friends and relatives among the stricken ones. Mr. John Taylor of the Union Cafe, left for Fairmont Friday night, where he has quite a number of friends among the miners. His brother, J. P. Taylor, will leave for the same place this evening.

Do It Now

W. J. BRYAN

ANNOUNCES THAT HE IS A CANDIDATE FOR THE PRESIDENCY.

IN SPEECH AT FREEPORT

Nebraskan Makes Formal Claim to Consideration at the Hands of Democratic Party.

Freeport, Ill., Dec. 7.—William J. Bryan opened his campaign for the presidency here Friday night. There was no mistake in his position, nor was there any in the attitude of the people toward him.

He spoke as the candidate of the Democratic party in a presidential fight, and not as a candidate for the presidential nomination of the Democratic party. The people received him as the leader of the Democrats and they turned out by the hundreds to hear him.

In every sense the meeting was a political one. It was the sort of political meeting that comes along at the height of a campaign when enthusiasm is highest. It was not, therefore, one meeting that Mr. Bryan addressed, but three.

He made two purely political speeches of nearly one hour in length each, and then the banquet speech when he responded to the toast, "The Democratic Party."

Mr. Bryan took advantage of the occasion to outline his platform in brief. He went into no details, but gave general principles, following closely along the lines of his recent Washington speech.

He gave but three essentials for that platform, namely: Currency reform, tariff reform, arbitration of labor troubles, and the regulation of the trusts, including rate regulations. It was not an aggressive speech that Mr. Bryan made in announcing his program, but rather a persuasive one. There was in it the appeal for harmony that was so prominent in his short speech at the Iroquois club in Chicago Friday afternoon and it was more of a recital of the shortcomings of the Republicans than of promises for the Democrats. He summoned it all up in his brief peroration in which he said:

"In a little less than a year the people will have another chance to try out Democratic doctrines. We have seen how popular a little of Democracy has made a Republican president and therefore we can understand how wonderful will be a Democratic government that will apply Democracy at all times."

Colonel James Hamilton Lewis laid down the rules upon which he proposes to make a fight for the nomination for governor of Illinois, the principal plank being one for state rights.

The opening of the political activities of the nation as Freeport regards the event, was a glad occasion for the little city.

Not since the famous Lincoln-Douglas debate here has it been so wrought up over any matter purely political and that was a long time ago.

GOVERNOR ORDERS INVESTIGATION

Washington, Dec. 7.—Governor M. W. O. Dawson of West Virginia, who is here attending the River and Harbors congress and consulting with national politicians, when informed of the disaster at the Monongah mine, immediately telegraphed the mine inspector to make a rigid investigation. The governor took a train immediately for the scene of the disaster. "It is a frightful, deplorable calamity," he exclaimed.

FOUND HANGING IN A BARN.

Canton, Dec. 7.—The body of Amos Sherer, aged 25, was found hanging yesterday in the hay loft in his father's barn near Magnolia.

TWO WOMEN ATTEMPT SUICIDE AT NEWS OF HUSBANDS' AWFUL FATE

FAIRMONT, Dec. 7.—Afterdamp in the mines is causing much trouble to the rescuing forces and many have been overcome. Temporary hospitals are being set up outside the mines and twenty physicians are in constant attendance. President Watson of the company, says he does not know what caused the explosion but intends to make his investigation thorough. He telegraphed Governor Dawson at noon, denying the reports that some of the rescuing parties had been lost. A relief train has been sent from Clarksburg. A special train carrying coffins arrived at Fairmont at noon. Two American women in the crowds at the mine entrance attempted suicide this morning when told that there was no hope of their husbands being found alive.

125 COFFINS SENT TO FAIRMONT FROM ZANESVILLE

ZANESVILLE, Dec. 7.—The echo of the terrible mine disaster in Fairmont, W. Va., in this city was apparent Friday evening in the activity at the plant of the Muskingum Coffin company at the foot of Main street. The company late in the afternoon received an order for 125 coffins to be shipped at once to H. L. Cunningham at Fairmont. Last night a full car load was shipped and this morning one, and possibly two, carloads will be shipped. The order being one requiring immediate attention, one-half the regular force of the factory worked all night. The order was rapidly filled and the platform at the B. and O. depot was piled with the ghastly reminders of the frightful disaster.

CHICAGO GETS REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Washington, Dec. 7.—Chicago will entertain the next Republican National convention. The national committee today decided this by the following vote: Chicago 32, Kansas City 17, Denver 4. The vote was then made unanimous for Chicago. The date is fixed as June 16.

SERIOUS JOLT FOR ROOSEVELT BY COMMITTEE

Which, in Selecting the Convention City, Absolutely Ignored His Desires in the Matter.

Washington, Dec. 7.—President Roosevelt received his first serious jolt Friday when a majority of the members of the national committee determined to ignore his desire concerning the place and date for the next national Republican convention.

Kansas City, June 2, was the program of the administration forces, and up to Wednesday night it appeared to be the winning program.

Friday night the program was Chicago, June 15 or 22. A canvass of anti-administration men Friday night disclosed a majority for Chicago of more than 15.

The meeting of the committee Friday morning at the Shoham hotel was brief. Fifteen members were absent and represented by proxies. Senator Dick of Ohio, attended the meeting with proxy of W. S. Sturges of Arizona. William Barnes Jr., of Albany represented New York on the proxy of William L. Ward, who is ill. Senator Warner held the proxy of Henry B. McCoy of the Philippine Islands.

The committee was called to order by Mr. New and the resignation of Secretary Cortelyou was read and accepted. New then retired from the room while he was elected chairman. Various committees were appointed and the committee adjourned until Saturday when Chicago will be selected for the next convention.

The assembling of the committee at the White House Friday afternoon is described as one of the most frigid formal meetings the committee has held in years.

The members assembled in the President's office, and after waiting a few minutes Harry S. New, the new chairman, brought the President before them. The President made a brief speech, thanking them for the work done in the last campaign.

Some of the members of the committee were disappointed by the President making no announcement as to his attitude toward a renomination. They expected he would take himself out of the race formally and positively while they were assembled before him, but not word was said on the subject.

UNION PRINTER ON JURY TO TRY GEO. A. PETTIBONE

Boise, Idaho, Dec. 7.—Friends of the defense in the trial of George A. Pettibone for alleged complicity in the assassination of former Governor Steenberger are gratified that union labor is represented on the completed jury in the person of A. C. Boot, a member of the Typographical union for 30 years. The average age of the jury as completed yesterday afternoon is 20 years younger than that body which tried and acquitted Haywood.

Attorneys for the state are today arranging to introduce evidence Monday afternoon. It is learned that the long conference held between the attorneys yesterday was on the proposition of excusing by agreement J. H. Frazier, who graduated from the University of Idaho last spring. No agreement was reached and neither side exercised a peremptory challenge on him. He is the youngest member of the jury and William Stahl, pioneer prospector, is the oldest.

FIGHTING HAS BECOME GENERAL ON FRONTIER

TROOPS MARCHED IN SILENCE THROUGH STREETS OF GOLDFIELD

Goldfield, Nev., Dec. 7.—Colonel Reynolds and the federal troops arrived today, and immediately took possession of the mine properties it will be their duty to guard. Residents generally sympathize with the miners and the soldiers left the train and marched through the streets in gloomy silence. The unionists were in session at Headquarters at the time. There have been numerous highway robberies and assaults in the past few days, but no outbreak, which can be traced to miners.

FRESH PERSECUTION OF JEWS IS EXPECTED IN RUSSIA

Berlin, Dec. 7.—The czar has issued a secret circular, ordering the provincial authorities strictly to enforce the six hundred disabilities imposed by statute upon the Jews, according to information received from St. Petersburg by influential Hebrews here. The order is accepted as inaugurating a fresh era of official persecution of the Jews. The enforcement of the disabilities has been suspended since 1905.

FEARFUL

VENGEANCE TAKEN UPON MAN AND HIS WIFE BY MOB OF ITALIANS.

VERY TRIVIAL DISPUTE

Results in Horrible Murders and a More Horrible Vindication of Great Law.

Genoa, Italy, Dec. 7.—Giuseppe Quattrocchi and wife cut their landlord, Anthony Bianchi, to pieces with knives today, slashed his wife and her nursing baby to death, strangled the three elder children, and were themselves held by a madened mob in front of a speeding electric car and ground to bits.

The wholesale butchery followed a trivial dispute over rent. Bianchi and his wife lived in the cottage to the Quattrocchis. The misunderstanding was not thought to be serious, and Bianchi knocked at his tenants' door before leaving for work today, evidently thinking it could be settled in a few moments. The instant he spoke, Mrs. Quattrocchi attacked him with a knife. Her husband rushed to her assistance and together they drove the victim into his own kitchen where the latter cut the body to ribbons. Attracted by his cries, his wife, with a baby in her arms dashed into the room, striving to protect her husband. Mrs. Quattrocchi dragged the woman aside, and while Quattrocchi finished Bianchi, she stabbed the mother and baby to death. The other children who had crawled under the bed, were hauled out and strangled.

Run down by a mob Quattrocchi confessed the crime. Holding them in front of a trolley car, resorted to as the only convenient means by which they could be quickly disposed of, the mobmen put on full speed while the avengers held their victims across the rails and scattered their bodies along many yards of track.

WORK OF GANG OF MEN IN ARRANGING FOR TRANSFER OF BRIDGE

Over Racoon Creek, West of Sixth Street—The New Bridge is to Be Concrete.

The Youngstown (Ohio) Construction company, which completed the construction of the concrete bridge over the North Fork of the Licking river, near the B. & O. railroad depot, that attracted the attention of thousands of Newark's citizens, when the large iron structure of the old bridge, together with the new concrete bridge, both being coupled together, was pulled into place in the space of less than four minutes, and only obstructed traffic for fifteen minutes a few weeks ago, are engaged on another large contract of greater importance, that of constructing a double track concrete bridge over the Racoon, west of Sixth street, on the Columbus and Newark division of the B. and O. and Pennsylvania railroad systems.

The new bridge is nearly completed and an immense steel, double track, overhead bridge, that has stood for many years, is being raised and put upon rollers, when the movement will be made of pulling the old bridge out and the new one in without interrupting the traffic of either road.

It is a sight worth seeing to watch the employees of the construction company, who are experts in the use of the steam pile drivers, and immense derricks, three or four in number, pick up the material many feet from the work and transfer it from one to another, and finally place it into position on the structure. Many of the employees are southern men, and their jolly repartee to southerners is amusing.

Dec. 7 In History.

1542—Marie Stuart, the beautiful queen of Scotland, beheaded under Elizabeth I. in 1563.
1563—Algeron Sidney beheaded on Tower hill, London, for complicity in a plot to murder King Charles II. The charge against Sidney was complicity in a conspiracy against the king. The evidence against him was trivial, but deemed sufficient by the court, over which Jeffrey presided, and he was condemned to death.
1808—Hugh McCulloch, financier and statesman, born in Kennelbunk, Me., died in 1883. In 1833 Mr. McCulloch was chosen by Secretary Chase to organize the newly created bureau of the comptroller of the currency and establish the national banking system. Two years later he became secretary of the treasury, which he held four years, when the demands on the treasury were very heavy. He steadily urged the reduction and final abolition of the public debt.
1834—Count Ferdinand de Lesseps, promoter of the Suez and Panama canals, died in 1895.
1865—Captain Roald Amundsen, Norwegian explorer, reached Eagle City, Alaska, overland from Herschel Island, after having sailed the northwest passage in the sloop Gjøa.

It is becoming apparent that the crowd of third term boomers is weakening in numbers and enthusiasm, but Teddy himself failed to come out in any declaration to the Republican National Committee when that body visited him at the White House Friday. This indicates that the President is still playing hide and seek. At least he is still hiding, though he may be a little more timid and cautious about seeking.

If the government does not need income and inheritance taxes now, it will after Congress shall begin paying the campaign expenses of the two political parties, or rather of all political parties, as the President suggests, for there could be no discrimination. Probably it would be cheaper for the country to pay the expenses of the Presidential campaign than to have the Republican party collect the money from the corporations and tariff beneficiaries and then pay its obligations in legislation.

Indications of a coming conflict in Congress over the Administration's financial policy are given in a hint of the Democrats of the Senate to the Republican leaders that it would be wise for them to push for the hasty passage of a currency bill. Should a debate be thus prematurely provoked, the Democratic Senators will want to know among other things, why the Administration borrowed, or prepared to borrow, $150,000,000 to lend it without interest to national banks. The debate would be anything but agreeable to the thick-and-thin Administration Senators.

A "REASSURING" MESSAGE.
(New York World.)

The business and financial interests of the country are said to regard the general effect of the President's message as "reassuring." It was no more radical than everybody expected, and was less radical than many had feared.

Yet if Mr. Roosevelt's recommendations were to be taken seriously, his message would have to be adjudged the most revolutionary ever submitted by any President of the United States to any Congress. It involves centralizations of authority, new interpretations of the Constitution, changes in the method of government and extensions of the national power over private business which none of his predecessors ever ventured to hint at.

Such a message from Washington, Jefferson, Jackson or Lincoln would

AMUSEMENTS

BROKEN HEARTS TONIGHT.

Tonight's bill at the Auditorium is the thrilling comedy drama "Broken Hearts." The story tells of the scheme of a villain to obtain an innocent girl's fortune. His plans are, however, thwarted by the heroine's lover, a country youth, who succeeds in rescuing the wife or the villain from an insane asylum in which she has been incarcerated through fraud. The tale is full of comedy and pathos, well staged and by an adequate company.

THE GINGERBREAD MAN.

Musical as ever "The Gingerbread Man," a famous musical comedy, of Nixon & Zimmerman's, attracted a very satisfactory audience to the Auditorium last evening. While the cast did not rise above the ordinary, and the chorus lacked much in the way of "ginger," looks and ability to sing, some of the players saved the show and deserve credit for their work. Charlie Quinn, the Gingerbread Man, Chas. E. Gallagher, the Bog Man, Gus Pixley, as Wondrous Wise, and Rose Murray as Margery Daw, and Della Merrin as Jack Horner, were the particularly bright features.

Miss Murray was the bright particular star and was a clever singer and dancer. Gus Pixley was a scream from curtain to curtain and made a splendid hit. Della Merrin, as Jack Horner, was particularly strong voice and it was a pleasure to hear her sing. Her songs always went well. The songs, "I'm Much Obligated to You," "Mazie," "O

The show next week is a good one from start to finish, headed by "The Three Troubadors," singers and dancers. These boys will become great favorites during their stay. The "Three Beauties," jugglers, introducing Miss Beatty, the greatest lady juggler of today; Darrow and Mitchell, "The Rubs, the Mads and the Piano." This act is a laugh getter and Mr. Darrow gives nine impersonations on the piano. John Max the German comedian and elee dancer, is a "Dutchman" from over the Rhine. The illustrated song and moving pictures are both good. Seats on sale Monday.

GREAT SOUTHERN THEATER.

From the present outlook the name of "Jefferson" will live on forever in the annals of theatrical world. The two worthy sons of the "Dean of the American Stage," the late Joseph Jefferson, who are known as Joseph Jefferson and William Winter Jefferson, will present "The Rivals" on Tuesday and Wednesday, December 10 and 11 at the Southern theater. Charles Dillingham and William T. Conner are preparing a distinct nov-city for the holiday season and will give the patrons of the Southern, on Friday and Saturday, December 13 and 14, an opportunity to see it before it goes into New York. The new offering is announced as a comedy with music by Judson C. Brustie, and it is entitled "Lonesome Town." In the stage production of "Lonesome Town," the story of which is told in two acts, the merry tramps of recent history will be amusingly portrayed by William Kohn and Max H. Dill, two favorite entertainers of the dialectic school.

JEFFERSON'S "THE RIVALS."

Te following from the Chicago Tribune speaks for itself:

"Coming out of Powers' last evening after witnessing the performance of 'The Rivals,' a bright-eyed woman was overheard saying: 'This has been a profitable evening,' and then she asked, naïf, resentfully, 'Why don't we have more of them?'"

"Her remark, it is believed, voiced the sentiments of nearly every person in the large audience that had just witnessed Sheridan's comedy with every evidence of delightful enjoyment. The language of the play may seem to be antiquated in expression and certain of the characters may impress us as old fashioned, but the wit, because it is genuine, is keen, and the humor of the situations, by reason of the skillful ease with which they are created, has lost none of its power to amuse and gladden."

"Not only the eye is gratified by witnessing one of those 'old fashioned' comedies—especially when they are presented with as much taste as was 'The Rivals' last night—but the mind, too, is roused and entertained and the auditor departs at the performance's close feeling that he has been not only diverted and amused, but refreshed and invigorated. Such an evening is, in truth, profitable for the recreation that is one of the chief ends of theater going has been obtained and the mental faculties have not been left unused, or what is more damaging, been dulled by inanity and worse. Why we do not have more of them is a test requiring too far reaching treatment to receive attention here, even if it were desirable. Managers, players and public are each in part to blame for the infrequency of such evenings of profit, but it is doubtful if the chief portion of such blame can be laid to justice by the door of the public."

If the theater going public of this city desires to spend a "profitable evening," should they fail to see "The Rivals" as presented by Joseph Jefferson and William W. Jefferson, at the Auditorium Thursday evening, December 12, they will be doing themselves an unpardonable injury.

HIPPODROME COMPLETED.

The Hippodrome, Cleveland's new $2,000,000 palace of amusement, will be opened December 30. It is the largest theater in the Middle West and is pronounced the most beautiful playhouse in America. The entertainment afforded by the gigantic new venture, will combine opera, drama, spectacle, vaudeville and circus. The seating capacity is 4500. The Pratt-Kirk company of this city furnished a large part of the interior finish for the Cleveland Hippodrome.

A CAROLINA LEGISLATOR.

Hon. Wm. G. Hunter Uses
Pe-ru-na As a Family Medicine.

WHEN a man of undoubted reputation comes out squarely in public print, giving unqualified endorsement to a household remedy there must be something genuine to account for it.

Hon. W. G. Hunter, of North Carolina, well-known in Washington and throughout the Southern States, says of Peruna that he regards it as the greatest family medicine ever discovered.

He does not hesitate to say that Peruna invigorates and gives fresh strength to mind and body.

Such testimonials as this ought to make Peruna popular.

No advertising known to the arts of man, no commercial management could ever raise Peruna to such a high standard of appreciation as the frank and unqualified statements of such men.

Peruna is an ideal household remedy. It wards off colds and relieves catarrh in all its forms and phases. By ridding the system of catarrh, it cleanses the body of those conditions which invite chronic diseases.

Cold Affected Head, Throat and Lungs.

Mr. Matthew O'Hare, 145 William St., Fall River, Mass., writes:

"About four years ago I consulted a physician to get relief from a cold which had stopped up my head and also settled on my lungs, resulting in catarrh and also throat difficulties. 'He gave me some medicine, but four months faithful use of the same did me no good. I then tried other doctors, but it was just the same. 'So I decided to try Peruna and after using two bottles my lungs began to heal, I did not cough nearly so much and slept better. 'In six months the cough, catarrh and throat difficulties were all cured. 'I was pleased with the result and wish to write you of it. Seven bottles of Peruna cured me.'"

A. L. Hewitt, J. P., West Berlin, Vt., writes: "I am happy to be able to write you this letter in relation to what your Peruna has done for my family. 'When I brought the first bottle home, I found my wife and daughter both sick—my wife with indigestion and my daughter with a severe cold. They were both cured. 'I am willing to state that Peruna, taken in the beginning, will cure the worst cold in 24 to 36 hours.'"

Mr. G. W. Taylor, Clendenin, W. Va., writes:

"I think that Peruna is the greatest tonic that was ever put on the market. For several years my eyes bothered me so much. The pain was so severe sometimes I would think they would surely burst out of my head. 'I tried Peruna and Manlin and am today a well man. am sure I should have died had it not been for Dr. Hartman's wonderful medicine, Peruna. Such testimony as the above has given Peruna a high standard in the estimation of the public."

HON. WM. G. HUNTER.

Cough, Colds, Catarrh
Relieved By Pe-ru-na.

Hon. Wm. G. Hunter, ex-member North Carolina Legislature, writes from the Census Office Building, Washington, D. C., concerning Peruna:

"The greatest family medicine ever discovered, in my opinion, which comes from experience as well as observation, is Peruna. The most common affliction to mankind is a bad cold. Peruna drives it out of doors, wards off catarrh, invigorates and gives fresh strength to mind and body. I give Peruna my unqualified endorsement."

Is Too Much Money Harmful to American Women?

"When our foreign critics speak of the American woman they have in mind the wives and daughters of unwisely chivalrous men, who have blindly allowed their women folk to pursue ignorant and half-baked ideals of emancipation."

"Almost without exception, her attempts at a career have been futile, and often they have been notably, even pathetically, ridiculous."

"Lacking all vital contact with life, ignorant of all the deeper wells of human impulse, her mind and her very good looks are as superficial and as trivial as her activities."

PIKE IMPROVEMENT

Zanesville Commissioners Are Coming To Newark To Arouse Interest In The Proposition.

Zanesville, Dec. 7.—County Commissioners Edward Ellis and A. S. Leland will next week visit Cambridge and Newark for the purpose of enlisting the county commissioners of Guernsey and Licking counties in the movement for the repair of the old National pike.

The local commissioners will go as representatives of the association, which has been formed in this county for that purpose. The commissioners will urge the organization of similar associations in these counties and will ask that each county so interest itself in its neighboring county.

The plan is for each county through which the pike passes, to form its own association, which will later be banded together under one

A FEW FACTS ABOUT LIVER TROUBLE.

A dull sluggish liver always brings a dull sluggish feeling to the entire body. When the liver works properly, the blood courses through the body in a bright red stream. When the liver is inactive, the blood becomes dull and muddy, and is full of poisonous matter. A great many people try to get a fine, clear, pink and white complexion by rubbing things on their faces. They might rub a life time, and the same yellow complexion would remain for the liver causes it. Only bright, red blood, brings fine complexions. Blood loaded with impurities from the liver sends the impurities out through the pores of the skin, and turns the skin a brownish yellow.

To get rid of the dull, heavy feeling and muddy, yellow complexion, get the liver to working again. Two 50c bottles of BLOODLINE will do it nine times out of ten. If you are troubled with constipation and straining, use BLOODLINE LIVER PILLS with the BLOODLINE.

ROBBERS

ENTERED THE B. & O. TICKET OFFICE FRIDAY NIGHT AND GOT $110.

Money in Another Drawer Was Overlooked—No Clue to Perpetrators of the Deed.

One of the boldest robberies in the criminal history of Newark occurred between 11 o'clock and midnight Friday night when the ticket office at the B. & O. depot was broken into, and $110 stolen. The robbers were probably frightened away before they completed the ransacking of the office, as $36.50 in another drawer was overlooked.

After the night trains had all gone and the money was placed in the money drawers, the night ticket agent, Michael Kelly, closed the office shortly after 11 o'clock, and went across the tracks to the Jackson hotel for a few minutes. He sat in the lobby of the hotel and read a newspaper and talked for a while with John Moore, train caller at the depot. On returning to the ticket office he commenced his work for the night, and it was after midnight before he discovered that the money was missing. He then commenced a search of the office and looked into some other money drawers in the office. Under some papers in one of the drawers he found $33.50 belonging to the Pullman company. Further search showed that $10 in silver in the rifled drawer had not been disturbed, and that $13 in pennies had been left by the robbers.

He immediately notified the officers of the road and Chief of Detectives Bennett and Detective Roberts commenced an investigation. The door to the office, on the north side of the depot and facing the baggage room was locked when Mr. Kelly returned and the window opening into the baggage waiting room was securely fastened. Over this window is a network of bars and it would be impossible to gain an entrance into the office from there.

No one had been seen looting about the depot, and who the robbers are is not known at the present time, but a careful investigation will be made by the railroad company and the thieves may be discovered. Many ticket offices have been robbed throughout the state within the past few weeks, and the robbery at the local depot may be traced to that gang.

Detective Bennett is of the opinion that the robbery is of local origin and may be traced to people living in Newark who are familiar with the habits of Mr. Kelly. He usually eats his lunch at about this time every night and frequently goes to the Jackson hotel for the purpose of buying a cigar.

The depot and platform is practically deserted at this hour of the night unless some of the trains happen to be late, and a person becoming familiar with the time the policeman on this beat reports. If an experienced man, could easily do his work in the absence of Mr. Kelly. If properly supplied with the necessary tools. It would practically be impossible to secure an impression of one of the keys to the door, as there are only three of them, and they are in the hands of Mr. Kelly, Mr. Bartholomew and one other official. The matter is a mystery and so far has baffled the police and detectives, but a careful investigation will be made and some clue may be discovered.

Mr. Kelly has been a trusted employee of the road for several years and was stationed at Chicago Junction before coming to Newark. Many years ago when working at check clerk for the express company at the Junction, he was the victim of a robbery. The now extinct but at one time famous "Lake Shore Gang" entered the express car one night and held Kelly and several other employees up. Most of the gang were sent to the penitentiary after they had been pointed out by "Doc" Brooks, now a policeman in this city, but at that time a detective of the B. and O.

B. & O. FIREMAN HAD BACK HURT WHILE ON DUTY

James Rector, a B. and O. fireman, had his back injured Saturday morning at 2:25 o'clock by being knocked from his engine at Lexington. He was standing on the tender of his engine No. 965, when freight No. 34 for some reason or other running on the same track, crashed into the engine. Rector was hurled to the ground and the engine was knocked off the track. The wreck train from this city was sent to Lexington to replace the engine on the rails. The injured man was brought to Newark on No. 14 and taken to his home, 94 DeCraw avenue in the ambulance of Criss Bros. & Jones. An examination showed that one rib was fractured and that he was slightly bruised.

The aerie has a membership roll now of over 100, and at the last meeting night there were many testimonials from among those present of the benefit derived, both socially and physically, as well as financially.

GIVE IT A TRIAL

Home Made Remedy Which Cures Promptly the Kidneys and Bladder—Easily Prepared

Cut this out and put in some safe place, for it is valuable and worth more than anything else in the world if you should have an attack of rheumatism or bladder trouble or any derangement of the kidneys whatever.

The prescription is simple, and can be made up by any one at home. The ingredients can be had at any good prescription pharmacy and all that is necessary is to shake them well in a bottle.

Here it is. Fluid extract dandelion, one-half ounce; compound Gargon, one ounce; compound syrup of sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime. A few doses is said to relieve almost any case of bladder trouble, frequent urination, pain and scalding, weakness and backache, pain above the kidneys, etc. It is now claimed to be the method of curing chronic rheumatism, because of its direct and positive action upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys. It cleanses these sponge-like organs and gives them life and power to sift and strain the poisonous waste matter and uric acid from the blood relieving the worst forms of Rheumatism and kidney and bladder troubles. The extract of dandelion acts upon the stomach and liver and is used also extensively for relieving constipation and indigestion. Compound sarsaparilla cleanses and enriches the blood.

A well-known local druggist is authorizing that this prescription is safe to use at any time.

The above officers-elect will be installed on the first meeting night in January, 1908. At the next meeting of Cedar Camp on December 9, a committee has been appointed to serve an oyster supper on that night and a good turnout of the neighbors is desired as there will be candidates to be initiated and we will have visitors from other camps. Neighbors we have only the month of December to secure candidates that will be counted in on the turkey supper and that will count on holding the state banner for another year. If you have a prospect that would make a good Woodman, telephone his name in to the clerk and Deputy Brandriff will, if he lands him, give you the credit of his adoption and you will be given a ticket to the turkey supper, which will be held some time in the month of December. Now neighbors, get a hustle on yourselves and secure a candidate for the next meeting of the camp. Come to the meeting of the camp on December 9, and we will give you a good oyster supper and show you a good time. Bring a neighbor with you. If you know of a neighbor that does not belong to Cedar Camp, bring him to our meeting, as the latch-string of Cedar Camp is always out to visiting neighbors.

BURBANK'S LATEST.

The United States National Museum has placed on exhibition a specimen "leaf" of a thornless cactus developed by Luther Burbank, of California. The perfecting of a cactus without thorns means a valuable forage plant which will grow as well in arid as in moist regions. The fattened stem of this novel growth, often erroneously called a "leaf," is in some of the best specimens nearly three feet long, a foot wide and three inches thick, and its surface is very similar to that of a water-melon.

According to the theory of Mr. Burbank this species of cactus at one time lacked thorns, but nature in developing the plant provided spines as a protection from browsing animals of the plains. The task of turning backward this course of nature seems to have been accomplished.—Washington Cor. New York Sun.

Four weeks from next Tuesday will occur the big meeting of the O. & P. magnates at Cleveland, and a merry war is promised. President Morton has invited the National Board of Arbitration to be present and they have accepted the invitation and will try to unravel the tangle.

A great deal of newspaper comment is being published regarding the redistricting and they have been kind enough to place Newark in all kinds of circuits, the most favored being that of the four southwestern clubs of the O. P.—Mansfield, Marion, Lancaster and Newark, with Zanesville, Lima, Sandusky and Lorain added. It is said that Mansfield, Lancaster and Marion favor this plan and these cities are giving out the information that Newark is also agreeable. Now, the truth of the matter is that the Newark officials have kept mum and have agreed to no proposition of the kind. It is a cinch, however, that they do not and never did favor such a circuit as the above.

Newark is under no obligations to either Lancaster, Mansfield or Marion. In fact they have reason to feel just the opposite if anything for it is an open secret that they opposed this city when we were desirous of joining the O. P. A circuit composed of Erie, New Castle, Akron, Youngstown, Canton, Zanesville, Newark and either Springfield, East Liverpool or Steubenville is not an improbability, and looks pretty good on paper. If such a circuit were organized and the salary limit kept at the proper figure it would prove a good paying league.

Lancaster, Marion and Mansfield would have no trouble in forming a splendid all Ohio league by taking in five good towns. Lima, Findlay, Sandusky and Lorain are all anxious to break into such a league, and it also could be made to pay.

We do not know what the outcome will be, but we are going to make a prediction that when the reorganization occurs Newark will be found in the faster company a place to which she rightfully belongs.

PROSECUTION'S STRONG WITNESS IN POWERS CASE

Georgetown, Ky., Dec. 7.—F. Walton Golden, lieutenant of the military company of John T. Powers, was placed on the stand in the Powers trial today. Golden is probably the most important of the prosecution's witnesses. He is among those indicted for the Goebel murder, but has never been arraigned. He said he took walks every day with Powers and discussed the best way to kill Goebel. He said he wanted it done by having a man shoot him down in the street. He said Powers suggested that a good way would be to have half a dozen men engage in a sham battle in a hotel dining room and kill Goebel in the melee.

POLICE COURT

A rather complicated assault case has been settled in police court, both parties making the same charges. Mrs. Elizabeth Bucksear claims she was assaulted by Harry Bleyer in front of Altshool's on South Third street Friday afternoon, and that during the alleged assault he spit in her face and knocked her down. These charges he vigorously denies and claims that the spitting charge should be reversed. He also said that he did not knock her down but that she, in attempting to strike him, ran into his arm that he held out for his own protection, and that she fell. The case was settled by a fine of $25.

She also appeared yesterday and swore out a warrant charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses, alleging that he, claiming to be her agent and secured $9.60 from Lee S. Lake, justice of the peace. He appeared before Mayor McCleery this morning and pleading not guilty was released on $50 bond. The case will be heard next Friday at 1 o'clock.

ANOTHER ARGUMENT

As to Status of the Legislature When It Reassembles.

WILL IT BE A NEW SESSION?

Senator West Would Clear the Calendar of All Pending Measures and Begin Anew—Senator Mather Thinks Foraker's Successor Should Be Elected—State Affairs.

Columbus, O., Dec. 7.—Argument has begun afresh over the real status of the legislature when it convenes five weeks hence for another session. Senator West of Bellefontaine, Republican leader of the senate, is quoted as saying: "Under the constitution the legislature would have met this winter even if an adjournment had not been taken to January, 1908, at the close of the last session." He favors declaring all bills of the last legislative session dead and not pending. He regards the coming session as a new session and not as an adjourned session.

"No attempt will be made to elect a United States senator to succeed J. B. Foraker," said Senator West in discussing the legislative program, "and a constitutional amendment will be voted on next fall which will legalize the 1909 session of the legislature."

Bills of a general nature, he said, will be re-introduced, as their sponsors do not want their legality questioned if they are enacted into laws. This, he said, is particularly true of temperance, financial and primary election bills.

Representative Bassett of Toledo and Representative Freiner of Vinton county are inclined to the same view. Mr. Freiner fears that such quibbles will be raised on all unfinished legislation of the former session which may be put through the coming session that, he says, he would rather reintroduce such measures of his that are still pending than to leave any doubt on which a technical ground may be based for attacking the same in the courts.

This renewed controversy was precipitated by the suggestion of Senator Mather of Akron in the current Law Bulletin that the present legislature, which is holding over for one year, and the successor of which is due to be chosen in November, 1908, must elect the successor of senator Joseph B. Foraker, so as to comply with a provision of the revised statutes of the United States which requires that the legislature of each state chosen next preceding the expiration of the time for which any senator was elected to represent such state in congress shall, on the second Tuesday after the meeting and organization thereof, proceed to elect a senator in congress. Senator Mather proceeds on the theory that Senator Foraker's term will expire March 4, 1909, or before the Seventy-eighth general assembly will be able to hold a regular session under the constitutional provision requiring that regular sessions shall be held biennially beginning with 1852.

How the learned men of the legislature are going to settle this controversy may be more or less enigmatical, but if they follow historical precedents they will have little difficulty in picking up the thread of legislation when they meet right where they left off when they adjourned.

If the ruling of the attorney general in the case of sheriffs and county treasurers holding over an extra year despite the inflexible constitutional limitation of their eligibility to hold such offices more than four years in any period of six years is at all sound, the present legislature is not holding a "regular" session in the sense that the first fixed session after election is a regular session, but is meeting under the adjournment resolution fixing the date of resuming its session.

According to the attorney general's ruling as to sheriffs and county treasurers the terms of members of the general assembly must be regarded as extended one year, the same as the terms of governors and other officers are extended, and that being the case the present legislature can not hold another regular session, but must either meet in extraordinary or adjourned session. As the time for re-assembling was fixed by resolution, it must needs be an adjourned session even though the time be coincident with the time formerly designated for regular biennial sessions.

Heretofore members of the legislature were elected in odd years. The constitutional restriction for regular sessions hereafter in even years will

A Fable For Critics

Once there was an Ox. He was a fine, hefty Ox. He could pull a big load. He never balked, but always liked to go straight ahead.

But the Ox had enemies.

There was the Flea and his whole big family. "We don't care whether this Ox travels or not," said the Flea and his folks. "All we want is some of his blood." Whereupon the Fleas eternally pestered the Ox and gave him That Tired Feeling.

Then there was the Tom Cat and his brothers—the Doubting Thomases. "We don't know whether this Ox is going the right way or not," said the Thomases. "Anyhow, we'll scratch his back for him." Whereupon the Felines jumped on the back of the Ox and scratched him for fair, which made the Ox exceedingly sorrowful.

Then there was the Fiste Pup and his Fellow Fistes—a whole litter of Fistes. "We don't care how slow the Ox goes," said the Fistes; "the slower the merrier for us. All we want is to lag behind him and bite his Tail." Whereupon the Fistes snapped continually at the Tail of the Ox, which gave the Ox a mighty mournfulness.

Finally the Ox, pestered constantly with the Fleas and the Felines and the Fistes, got to looking sickly. He stopped and lay down on his job, and there was no more going forward for him.

KEY TO THE SITUATION: The town is the Ox. The Fleas and the Felines and the Fistes are those citizens who criticize every progressive movement and do everything they can in their petty ways to make the Ox quit pulling in the right direction.

MORAL: Give the Ox a chance to pull. Everybody holler, "Git up!"

DECLARES GOVERNMENT WORK BEST FOR CANAL

PANAMA HILL BEFORE BLAST OF 9600 POUNDS OF POWDER.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 7.—In the annual report of the Isthmian Canal Commission, which has just been submitted to the war department, stress is laid upon the advisability of continuing the work by government hired labor instead of by the contract system. In this connection the report says:

"There is no question that in the majority of cases in the United States work is contracted because it can be done cheaper by that method than any other. This is generally due to the fact that the contractor has on and a construction plant which can be more cheaply hired than purchased anew. When in any particular case, either from the nature of the work or its location, the contractor must purchase machinery and appliances which, so far as he can foresee, will be practically useless on the completion of the work, or where the party having the work done can its completion, the advantages of make use of the plant subsequent to the contract system disappear.

LIBRARY

FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS IS NOW ASSURED.

Big Fair Given Friday Was a Successful Even In All of Its Details.

The library is assured!

The fair was a big success at the High school in every respect, and a nice library will be purchased and installed in the building for the benefit of the pupils. Over 2500 was cleared by the sale of the donations above all expenses, the result of the work Friday afternoon and evening.

About 1 o'clock to the afternoon people began arriving and before 4 o'clock the large stock of different articles offered for sale was sadly depleted. Everyone had a good time and as the halls of the building were filled with people wishing to "get separated from their money," the pupils and teachers were happy. The general good naturedness was contagious and the people that had money wanted to spend it, and those interested in the fair wanted to get it—so everyone was cheerful.

In the basement, the refreshment booths were located and were presided over by Miss Wallace and Miss Ruby Jones. A person could get most anything he wanted to eat, and going on the theory that an attractive room would help the sale of the food, the pupils did some elaborate decorating.

The first floor of the building was an attractive place, the many booths, prettily decorated, making an interesting picture. The candy booths were in charge of Miss Faulkner and Miss Moore; the Needlework booth in charge of Miss Foss. The Doll House claimed the attention of Miss Watling, while Miss Reese looked after the Exchange table. The destinies of the Fish Pond were guided by Prof. Millisor. Prof. Tate and the tennis grade boys kept the popcorn popping, and this booth was one of the most successful in the building.

On the second floor was the Gipsy Camp and Lucky Kettie. Miss Folger had charge of these two features. The art work department looked after by Misses Allen and McDonald, was entirely satisfactory from a financial standpoint, and was one of the first to close for lack of stock to supply the demand.

Yes, the fair, the first of its kind in Newark, was a success, a big success and the plans to continue it today were abandoned early Friday evening, when the rush started and it was seen the stock would be exhausted.

EARLY SHOPPING.

Too much emphasis cannot be laid on the Citizen's recommendation to the Christmas shoppers of Newark in reference to making early purchases before the holiday rush begins. It should be borne in mind that every person who carries out such a policy confers some practical benefit upon other persons who are in real need of it. If this were not so, a great charitable organization like the Charity's Publication Committee of New York would not be flooding the country with appeals for early shopping. Common sense, however, should establish the wisdom of such purchasing without evidence presented by an organized campaign.

MR. HAGMEIER WILL RETURN TO THIS CITY

Six years ago Mr. George J. Hagmeier was one of the most successful grocerymen in the city. His store, the Pittsburg Cash grocery, was one of the best known in Lackawanna county. Mr. Hagmeier, receiving an excellent offer from one of the largest coal companies in the state of Pennsylvania, sold his interests here and moved away. For six years he has acted as purchasing agent for the coal company with his headquarters in Pittsburg.
But, being an experienced groceryman, he wanted to enter the business again and he has returned to Newark. His new store, which will be known as the Pittsburg Cash grocery, will be located at 20 West Main street, in the room formerly occupied by the Wolf Clothing company, will be opened to the public Saturday, December 14. The room he will occupy will be remodeled into one of the most modern kind for grocery purposes, and will be stocked with up to date staple and fancy groceries, produce and smoked meats. In fact it will be one of the most modern and elaborate stocks of the kind in the city.
A competent force of clerks will be employed and every possible thing will be done to make the store the leader of its kind in the city. Mr. Hagmeier is well known to Newark people after his residence of six years in the city, and they will be glad to welcome him back, for a groceryman who knows his business is appreciated by the housekeepers. The opening of the store will be on Saturday, December 14, and all the old friends and acquaintances are invited to call and inspect the stock.
Almost his entire life has been spent in his chosen business, and his knowledge of the business enables him to purchase his stock at the lowest possible market price and allows him to sell to his customers at a decided saving on many different things.

In order to save his customers as much trouble as possible both telephones will be installed, and orders over the phone will receive careful attention. Prompt delivery will be made of all orders, and everything will be done to make the Pittsburg Cash grocery a model store in every respect. Cleanliness will be a special feature and will be insisted on by the proprietor. Mr. Hagmeier appreciates the fact that a clean room, clean clerks and clean stock are things very much appreciated by housewives, and it is to them he caters.
The "clean store" will undoubtedly be successful under his careful management and his many friends wish him every success in this venture.

have no more virtue in the present emergency than the restrictions on the terms of sheriffs and county treasurers to four years in periods of six years. Automatically the same restrictions as to the terms of sheriffs and treasurers and all other officials and also the times for holding regular sessions of the legislature will become operative after the present interregnum has been bridged over.
It is hinted that the liquor interests are back of the move to sweep the calendar of all pending legislation and begin anew. Such hints are possibly groundless, for the liquor interests would not gain anything by such a move merely to dispose of the present Rose county option bill, the only temperance measure pending, for it would take not more than three days to go through the whole modus operandi should Senator Rose reintroduce his bill and ask the senate temperance committee to advance it to the calendar.
On this subject of county local option Representative Pears of Allen county said in an interview:
"I have met a number of senators who have been reported as supporters of the Rose county local option bill, and they tell me they are not pledged in any way, and in fact have not made up their minds."
Mr. Pears believes the financial revenue involved in a county local option bill will be a big factor, and he also considers that there will be some effort made to pass legislation to declare the entire state dry and submit it to a vote.
Another bill, not as yet much discussed, and which Mr. Pears thinks may be brought forward, is an act to prohibit the sale of whisky in the state and permit beer to be left to the present Dow-Alkin tax stipulations.

No surprise was occasioned by the action of the supreme court in ordering former State Senator L. L. H. Austin of Toledo and former Clerk of the Supreme Court Lawson E. Emerson to be brought into court on contempt proceedings in connection with the issuance of a certificate to Austin to practice law, which certificate the court recently revoked. The information filed against Austin and Emerson through the attorney general's office charges them with having entered into a conspiracy to issue to Austin a certificate to practice law, though he had not been admitted to the bar by the supreme court. It further charged that they mutilated the court records and falsified them in order to carry out the conspiracy. They are not charged with having committed a crime, but are cited for contempt of court, but this does not preclude the presentation of the cause to the prosecutor of Franklin county for further action under the section of the statute that makes the mutilation of a court record a penitentiary offense.
Austin and Emerson pleaded not guilty to the charge of contempt when arraigned in supreme court, and their hearing was set for Jan. 7. In pleading not guilty Austin said if he had been given time to procure evidence when his certificate was revoked by the court this additional proceeding would not have been brought. Part of the evidence he expected to get he has since obtained, and if given more time he believed he could get the rest of it. Both gave bond for their appearance Jan. 7.
By the retirement of Arthur I. Vorys from the office of state commissioner of insurance Dec. 16, to give his time more fully to the Taft campaign, quite a change will take place in the governor's official force. C. C. Lemert of Kenton, executive clerk to the governor, who held the same position during Governor Nash's time, was appointed to succeed Mr. Vorys as insurance commissioner. Randolph W. Walton of Monroe county, present commission clerk, will step into Lemert's place. Walton was also one of Governor Nash's office staff. Mr. Vorys served under Governors Nash, Herick, Pattison and Harris, the longest record of any insurance chief.
Henry W. Frillman of Columbus, who has held a clerkship several years in the secretary of state's office, will take Walton's present position.

Roscoe J. Mauck tendered to Governor Harris his resignation as member of the board of trustees of Athens state hospital, which was accepted. In his letter Mauck said the duties of trustee were not agreeable to him. Last summer Mauck retired from the office of Attorney General Ellis, where he had been special counsel. It was not admitted then, and not since, by the department that Mauck had ceased to be a part of it. However, he has not drawn regular pay for several months.
It was Mr. Mauck who secured the appointment of Superintendent Hanson, and it is a question whether Mr. Mauck's retiring from the board will affect the retention of Superintendent Hanson.
General Charles Grosvenor of Athens, it is announced, is a receptive candidate for Senator Foraker's seat in the senate. If former precedents, beginning with the Zanesville convention, are followed, the Republican candidate for senator will be determined by endorsement of the coming state convention.
General George A. Harmon of Lancaster, department commander of the G. A. R., has renounced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for state treasurer, to succeed W. S. McKinnon.

MRS. MARY SWAN'S ADDRESS ON THE JUVENILE COURT

Woman Who Has Taken a Remarkable Interest in This Work, Tells of the Results and Prospects Thus Far Attained.

The following is the address given by Mrs. Mary A. Swan, probation officer, at the W. C. T. U. meeting at the First M. E. church Tuesday of this week:

The problem of the child is the problem of the State, and certainly of far more importance than the political questions of tariff or money, and unquestionably closer to the hearts and homes of the American people.

I regard the juvenile division of the court as the most important work it can be called upon to perform, surely every case involving a boy or girl is more important than any case involving dollars and cents, no matter what the amount may be.

The proper rearing and handling of children in the home, the church, and in so far as the juvenile court is called in to help, will do more than any one thing, not only to reduce criminal proceedings, but also civil, it is nearer than any one thing, the foundation of these problems.

We must awaken to the importance, and spare neither earnest work nor money in caring for the children of Licking county. Newark is greatly in need of a detention home, and to no small extent are we handicapped by not having a place for the little offenders, who wait to come before the judge of the juvenile court to answer for the charges brought against them. The judge is very lenient with the children and whenever possible leaves them with the parents until the case is called.

During past years the little folks were placed in jail with all classes of adults, then the children were sentenced to Lancaster were again placed in jail until the sheriff or deputy could arrange to take them to the Boys' Industrial School. Is the city prison, or the county jail, a place that makes me shudder with horror, when linked to the name of a child? In any case, the first remark the judge makes, "if possible keep them out of the county jail" until they can be taken to Lancaster.

Chief of Police Sheridan and his staff have shown a marked interest in the children, and in every case where it is possible the chief turns the children over to one of the probation officers, who assumes the responsibility, and later makes arrangements to bring them before the judge, each officer trying to keep the children out of the jail.

The detectives on the Baltimore and Ohio also the Pennsylvania system show a kindly interest along this line, and while we have heard much about the heartless police, the burly officers, the detectives, and all that sort, in every case during the day the little offenders are brought direct to the court house, or to one of the probation officers whichever the case may be, one and all aiming to keep them out of the jail.

We must proceed on the theory that we cannot best overcome the children by punishment, we must overcome falsehood with truth, dishonor with honor, evil with good. This is and must continue to be the doctrine of the juvenile court.

In the essential matter of taking care of the children much advantage could be gained by a careful study of what has been accomplished in such states as Illinois and Colorado by the juvenile courts. The work of the juvenile court is really a work of education, of character building. It is today recognized by our philanthropists that young boys and young girls who go wrong should not even necessarily be needing reformation, but simply to have them tested by placing them upon their honor by a system of probation. Judge Tutthill says: "The probation feature, in my judgment, is the keystone which supports the arch of the juvenile court."

Horace Mann says: "The very foundation of the whole commonwealth is the proper bringing up of the child."

The judge of the juvenile court of Licking county says: "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. Save the young and you save all. The neglected child of today is the dynamite bomb of tomorrow."

Probation methods in dealing with delinquent children have come to stay, as they are natural and logical, definite and positive results have followed their proper application.

Juvenile probation is the happy medium between a too sensitive imprisonment or suspended sentence by the court. It gives a delinquent child a chance to correct his conduct under proper supervision and control. It is a good combination of results and liberty that appeals to our good sense and judgment.

One of the prominent jurists of this country wrote the police departments of 100 principal cities of this country. "What, in your opinion are the principal causes of trouble among the young in your city?"

Sixty-eight replies were received, and each one said, "The parents are to blame."

It is wiser and less expensive to save the children than to punish the criminal. While economy was the watchword of the past century, the dawn of the present century has taken a step forward. Today the watchword is no longer economy, but the welfare of the child.

Better spend thousands on child rescue than tens of thousands on criminal trials, and hundreds of thousands on jails, reform schools and state prisons.

Special and particular interest has been manifested by Superintendent Simkins of our public schools, truancy officer, and teachers in delinquent boys. Instead of that disposition often manifested to get rid of them as a menace and producing extra work, this must not be understood as indicating that there has been a lack of proper disposition in this regard in Newark, with reference to such a case. On the contrary the school teachers of Newark are entitled to the warmest praise and commendation.

When Judge Lindsey spoke in Newark early this spring, along the child problem, 96 out of 100 teachers were present. We need no better proof than this, that our teachers are playing their part in building up and forming the character and destiny of the children.

The most hopeful, helpful and encouraging thing about the juvenile court work in Newark has been the general spirit of approval thereof pervading the entire community. The gratefulness and appreciation, and humility and thankfulness it has inspired in those upon whom the direct responsibility of this work devolves, and the inspiration it has been for the future, can never be fully known or understood except by those directly affected.

The W. C. T. U. nobly came to the aid of the juvenile court in caring for eleven motherless children. In this particular case, which is not foreign to you, one of the children will go to Delaware. This will not discourage you or me in working with this family.

"No farmer makes every grain of corn or wheat grow and produce fruit after its own kind; no gardener makes every flower seed grow—so it does not seem possible with our best efforts to make good with every delinquent child, but that should always be our ideal and our faith."

The Silent Circle of the King's Daughters has responded to our call, as well as several others. Give the boys a chance, they have many faults, but there are many good possibilities in their nature to develop.

"Save the children, save the nation."

It would be practically impossible to show by a mere report of the text of law and the number of children in court, what is meant by the juvenile court. Something of its character, meaning, history, and the purpose and spirit back of it all, must necessarily be referred to in order to be appreciated, and to do this would consume too much time. However, it is well understood by those who seek to promote the good of others, that the juvenile court rightly understood, is something of an effort at character building. It involves constant work, constant effort, constant struggle for those truly enlisted.

I shall feel more than repaid and honored if I am permitted to humbly stand with those who have aided the children of which there can be no more noble service performed.

DON'T EXPERIMENT.

You Will Make No Mistake if You Follow This Newark Citizen's Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys. If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are all symptoms of kidney trouble, and you should seek a remedy which is known to cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use. No need to experiment. It has cured many stubborn cases in Newark. Follow the advice of a Newark citizen and be cured yourself.

Miss Mary E. Manville, of 24 South Fourth street, Newark, O., says:

"Doan's Kidney Pills are the best thing I know of for rheumatic troubles. I got more relief out of one box than from all the other remedies I have ever used. I had suffered a great deal from rheumatism in my joints and back. It caught me first in one place and then in another, but was always present somewhere. Nothing seemed to give any relief until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Crayton's drug store. Apparently they drove all the rheumatism out of my system for I have never had a return of the trouble and that was over five years ago. My husband has also used Doan's Kidney Pills with good results."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

One of the Important Duties of Physicians and the Well-Informed of the World is to learn as to the relative standing and reliability of the leading manufacturers of medicinal agents, as the most eminent physicians are the most careful as to the uniform quality and perfect purity of remedies prescribed by them, and it is well known to physicians and the Well-Informed generally that the California Fig Syrup Co., by reason of its correct methods and perfect equipment and the ethical character of its product has attained to the high standing in scientific and commercial circles which is accorded to successful and reliable houses only, and, therefore, that the name of the Company has become a guarantee of the excellence of its remedy.

TRUTH AND QUALITY

appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing, therefore we wish to call the attention of all who would enjoy good health, with its blessings, to the fact that it involves the question of right living with all the term implies. With proper knowledge of what is best each hour of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may be made to contribute to that end and the use of medicines dispensed with generally to great advantage, but as in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time, the California Fig Syrup Co. feels that it is alike important to present truthfully the subject and to supply the one perfect laxative remedy which has won the approval of physicians and the world-wide acceptance of the Well-Informed because of the excellence of the combination, known to all, and the original method of manufacture, which is known to the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent of family laxatives, and as its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well-Informed of the world to be the best of natural laxatives, we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects always note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package, whether you simply call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—is the one laxative remedy manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. and the same heretofore known by the name—Syrup of Figs—which has given satisfaction to millions. The genuine is for sale by all leading druggists throughout the United States in original packages of one size only, the regular price of which is fifty cents per bottle.

Every bottle is sold under the general guarantee of the Company, filed with the Secretary of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C., that the remedy is not adulterated or misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs Act, June 30th, 1906.

FATHER O'BOYLAN AS A LECTURER

NEWARK'S ELOQUENT PRELATE
IS NOW ON THE LECTURE PLATFORM.

Opinion Unanimous That His School-arly Effort at Toronto was Most Instructive.

Rev. Father B. M. O'Boylan of this city has become a lecturer. After solicitation he agreed to deliver a lecture at Toronto, Jefferson county, Ohio, of which the Tribune of that place says:

"A lecture of unusual interest was delivered last evening in St. Francis church by Rev. B. M. O'Boylan, rector of St. Francis de Sales church of Newark, Ohio. The speaker is one of the most learned, profound and eloquent clergymen in that denomination. His discourse was replete with evidences of homiletical research and faith that were inspiring and convincing. His rhetorical powers were most marked, and yet withal he was so sincerely imbued with a spirit of Christian basic principle that all who listened were more than entertained. It was a discourse both wise and simple, in that the speaker brought his truths in such plain, forceful and coherent thread to the listeners in a manner that was invaluable in making the evening one of instruction and worthy of future thought and weight."

"The idea advanced by the speaker was garnered from a mind that has been brought to an unusually refined condition of culture by the most careful winnowing among all the modern and ancient authors of standard fame, from the Roman and Greek philosophers to the more recent writers and scientific investigators. But the happy vein of the intellectual feast opened up to the people of Toronto last evening was the peculiarly simple yet erudite language and simile employed in making the most humble listener fully able to follow and imbibe the grand truths that were presented, after studious analysis by a mind that is recognized far and wide as conspicuous for its scope and originality as well as accentuated reverence. In all the discourse the one great truth was held uppermost that all the most wonderful, the most marvelous revelation were only to be traced direct to the initiative of the Father of the Universe, the Creator of all."

"The lecture was entitled, 'Questions of the Hour.' The subject was a portrayal of man's place and phase in the universe. The speaker said, in part, that it was important to show, in the original creation, that all geological formations, the groundwork of research and scientific deduction showed a man's insignificance in the elementary forces yet preponderance in the powers that control and direct everything. A child born in a mine and emerging into the world at six or seven years of age, expressing amazement and wonderment of the sights then encountered, was used as an illustrative example by the lecturer in comparing man's advent in primitive times to the wonders of this day, as wrought out by modern science and invention."

"The development of the telescope and astronomy as a result was referred to as one of the wonders of this age. The comparative smallness of the sun to the whole solar system, and the meagreness of our earth to the whole universe was depicted. Yet notwithstanding the vastness and magnificence of the scene man's intellect was greater than all these. Man was the grandest object of all the Creator's designing. In us the most wonderful subject that the Supreme Being could contemplate is supplied, and in our form he has endowed all the higher, holier attributes that were known to the Father Almighty."

"All these conditions refuted irrefragably the theory that man came from any other source than the creative act of God. This is shown by research into geology, which proved life utterly impossible to exist before the breath of life was given as the saints describe."

"The question of man's utility on earth is answered by reason. The order and unswerving laws of higher Nature prove all on this point. We have many established facts to demonstrate this. We know that the wire is the medium to carry the electric spark yet we see it not, unless the transmission is interfered with, then the dazzling flash reveals its potency and power. The same is true of wireless telegraphy. We do not see either, yet it must be there for us to live. We see by the electric light, a reflective motion, yet we do not see the motion, but know it must be there. We know there is a power of action to the heart though we do not see it. There is a power of gravity and attraction that holds us to the earth, yet we do not feel it. No one has ever seen the magic of brain workings, or the coursing of the human mind, yet both are beyond question. We do not behold brain consciousness, yet it is a fact. Reason forces us to believe the existence of these, the most singular forces on earth, and man exemplifies them by divine inspiration."

"We could almost believe without special revelations from God that we are created of God. Man, in common with animal life, has a craving for food, for water, for air, and would not have those cravings were not the articles needed available. Nature cannot cry for that which does not exist."

"Man above all other living objects, has endowments all his own, given to no other thinking life--the intellect, gift, understanding, free will, desire for love, etc. The object of the intellect is Truth. In the domain of truth the more we feed the intellect, the more it demands. We must of necessity come to the conclusion of the infinite Truth, which is practically but another name for God. The desire for happiness is in the same vein, which every one knows is not by any means satisfied in this world. Therefore, it must and can only be satisfied in another world."

Remarkable Rescue.

That truth is stranger than fiction, has once more been demonstrated in the little town of Fedora, Tenn., the residence of C. V. Pepper. He writes: "I was in bed, entirely disabled with hemorrhages of the lungs and throat. Doctors failed to help me, and all hope had fled when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. Then instant relief came. The coughing soon ceased; the bleeding diminished rapidly, and in three weeks I was able to go to work." Guaranteed cure for coughs and colds, 50c. and $1.00 at F. D. Hall's drug store. Trial bottle free.
